

SUNDAY BASE-BALL IS NOW UP TO MCLELLAN

Measure Legalizing Amateur Games Will Reach the Mayor To-Morrow.

HE SEEMS TO FAVOR IT.

Used to Play Ball Himself and Sympathizes with Boys Who Play Now.

If Mayor McClellan wants to make himself solid with every small boy in New York he will lose no time in signing the Thompson bill, which will legalize amateur baseball on Sundays between 1 and 6 o'clock P. M. The bill passed the Assembly yesterday by a decisive vote, having already got through the State. It only remains now for the Mayor and Governor to sign it.

Every boy in the city limits is profoundly interested in this measure and joy will run riot if only Mayor McClellan will consent to give the bill his official sanction. Young lots will be in demand everywhere the instant the measure gets on the statute books and a brand new crop of McGraws and Chases and Matthews will begin to incubate.

Has McClellan's Sympathy.

For the satisfaction of boydom it may be said in advance that Mayor McClellan has a strong feeling of sympathy for the baseball bill. Time was when he played baseball himself in the back lot district and he still yearns for the game. In those early days he was popularly known as "Muggs" and his curves were the terror of many an aspirant for the batting championship.

The Mayor said today that the bill had not reached his office and he did not think it would be in his hands before to-morrow. He added that he was fairly familiar with its provisions in advance, but could not undertake to give a forecast of what his action toward it will likely be. It was obvious that the Mayor was rather favorably disposed toward the bill.

Wants to Encourage Sport.

He said that he desired to encourage all forms of amateur sport, and he thought that baseball was one of the best of all. He likes no game better, not even the game of golf, and there is excellent prospect that his signature will adorn the Thompson bill when it starts back to Albany. It has been suggested in some quarters that the bill might be construed as an infringement on the "home rule" prerogatives, which the Mayor guards with such jealous care that church organizations are likely to be allied with the opponents of the bill.

U. S. DESTROYERS RACING DOWN COAST

Start from Scotland Lightship for Cape Henry, Va., This Morning.

Six torpedo-boat destroyers, the fastest boats in the United States Navy, started today on a 26-mile race from the Scotland Lightship to Cape Henry, Va. They were the flagship Whipple and the Truxton, Worden, Stewart, Hull and Hopkins, comprising the second torpedo flotilla.

The weather was fairly favorable for a fast race when the swift craft ranged toward the starting line for a flying start. The wind was fresh and the sea was lumpy. With the signal the six destroyers sped for the line at full speed. The time of the start was taken at 8:30.

Within a mile from the line the destroyers Worden, Stewart and Hopkins had pushed out ahead of the others. They carried every pound of steam available, and spectators on the shore had only comparative short glimpses of the black-hulled vessels as they sped south along the Jersey coast.

Naval officers expect the destroyers to make twenty-four knots an hour, which would bring them to Cape Henry by 4 P. M.

At the finish of the race the destroyers will proceed to Hampton Roads to be present at the Jamestown Exposition on Georgia Day, June 10.

WANAMAKER INCORPORATES.
ALBANY, June 6.—John Wanamaker of New York, has filed a certificate of incorporation with the Secretary of State. The corporation will consist of the department-store business with a capitalization of $5,000. The directors are John Wanamaker, Thomas E. Wanamaker, J. Rodman Wanamaker and William L. Nevins, of Philadelphia, and Robert C. Gordon, of New York.

CHEER UP, DAN CUPID.
Here's a strong-minded wife who makes her husband a written agreement to love her. And there's much more to the story than that. See Next Sunday's "Evening World."

PREFERS FACTORY JOB TO MARRIAGE HALTER

"Just Because Girl" Balked at Monotonous Prospect of Wifehood.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—Lillian Sweeney, the "Just Because Girl," is back at work in the lamp factory earning between $20 and $25 a month and happy that she was strong minded enough to keep clear of the halter of marriage at the last moment. She has been in the eye of St. Louis ever since Saturday last when she gave the mit to Kenneth L. Bloom, who on that day was best man at her sister's wedding and who won a "yes" from Lillian in the carriage on the way to that ceremony.

THREE BIG FIRES MENACE A CITY

Incendiaries Start Simultaneous Blazes in Business Section of Allentown, Pa.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 6.—Apparently an effort of incendiaries to destroy the city of Allentown was made early today when firemen were called almost simultaneously to fight three fires in the business section of the city. The first fire was in the stock house of Bittner, Dryden & Co., one of the largest dry-goods houses in the Lehigh Valley; the second at the Price Furniture Company's plant, and the third at the furniture factory of Helfrich, Bohner & Co.

An effort was made to draw the firemen from the business section by turning in a false alarm from a remote residential section of the city. The total loss is $125,000.

GIRL DISAPPEARS AND TAKES TWO DRESSES.

Grandmother, Who Kept House for Her, Cannot Explain Why She Went Away.

Miss Marco Reynolds who for a year has been in charge of the Western Union Telegraph office at Rahway, N. J., has been absent from her post since Friday. Her grandmother, Mrs. Flake, who kept house for her, has no idea where the young woman has gone. She requested yesterday the police to aid her in searching for the young woman.

Miss Reynolds worked as usual Friday and seemed in good spirits. She went home to supper and it appears now that when she left home she wore two dresses or else had removed one of her dresses from the house previously. She did not take a hat from the house. She appeared to have cleaned her office at the usual time, but did not return home.

Miss Reynolds went to Rahway from Canada. Her accounts with the telegraph company are all right. She did not have any love affair so far as known, and if she had, was practicing her own head. She is about twenty years old, tall and slender, good looking, and wears glasses.

TABLET FOR PROF. HESS.

Pupils of Public School No. 30 Honor Dead Principal's Memory.

Wearing carnations and singing the hymns he loved so well, the pupils of Public School No. 30 in East Eighty-eighth street, near Third avenue, yesterday unveiled a bronze tablet in memory of their late principal, William Carl Hess, who died Feb. 20, 1907, after having been for ten years at the head of the school.

City Superintendent Maxwell, President Finley, of City College, Mr. Lamont, of St. Joseph's R. C. Church, and others took part in the exercises. Master Milton Jacoby presented the tablet, which was purchased by the scholars out of the fund that has originally raised for flowers. It will be set in the wall in the principal's room.

Prof. Hess was a well-known German classical scholar.

ADAMS IS CAPTAIN OF YARD.
Capt. G. D. Adams, U. S. N., recently relieved of the command of the cruiser Washington, reported yesterday for duty as the captain of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, succeeding Capt. E. D. Tamm.

Bloom and Lillian Sweeney were in the Court House prepared to obtain a license when the girl suddenly looked into the future and compared what she conceived to be the monotony of married life with the independence of making her own living. She chose the piece she had in the flannel department of the lamp factory, believing that if she should change her mind on the marriage question in the future she had plenty of time. She is only twenty years old.

Of course Bloom asked Lillian "why" she had changed her mind, and she answered "just because."

"I like my work and I know what housework is," she said to-day at the factory. "Sister is happy. I know, and maybe I'd be happy too if I were married, but I'm not sure. I know what I have now—freedom. Exactly certain things to do and a certain time in which to do them with a result that is certain. Married life, I believe, is different."

WALDO GETS LONG DELAYED LEGACY

Bingham's Former Deputy Came Into Fortune on Thirtieth Birthday.

Former Deputy Police Commissioner Rhineland Waldo has acquired a legacy left him by an aunt many years ago with the provision that he should not receive it until his thirtieth birthday. On June 1 he became thirty, and the fortune that was turned over to him is said to be anywhere between $75,000 and $100,000.

But whatever it is, it has enabled the young man to invest $4,000 in an automobile and to take up elegant bachelor quarters.

Mr. Waldo was once an officer in the Twelfth Regiment, U. S. A., and when he resigned as a Deputy Police Commissioner it was reported he would re-enter the government service and probably return to the Philippines as an officer in the consular, but he did not.

He is son of Mrs. Rhineland Waldo, whose wealth is said to be close to $2,000,000, but his allowance has never been large. It was reported a short time ago that he would be a candidate for Police Commissioner if Mayor McClellan buried the hatchet with Tammany Hall.

BOY KILLED IN WELL.

Nine-year-old Hugh McDonald, son of a Staten Island Rapid-Transit brakeman of that name, died at his home here today as the result of falling into a cesspool near his home.

A HEALTHY HOME.

There is but one way to acquire a healthy home, and that is by proper disinfection.

No home is really clean or healthy unless a disinfectant is used there regularly, and as its cost is insignificant it is the grossest negligence not to use one.

Just add a little C. N. Disinfectant (non-poisonous) to all cleaning water, and sprinkle in toilets, sinks, &c., and you will save yourself much sickness and trouble, as well as keep your home free from all insects.

$300,000 HEIRESS WEDS THE GROCER

Parents Angered by Elopement of 17-Year-Old Miss, but All's Forgiven Now.

The parents of pretty Flossie Johnson, who has $300,000 in her own right, and who angered her parents by marrying secretly Fred Arfmann, a grocer, or Decoration Day, have forgiven her, but her mother and stepfather, Arthur E. R. Lansing, of No. 87 Lincoln place, Brooklyn, are still the trustees of her fortune. A family "peace dinner" was eaten by all hands yesterday at the Lansing home.

Arfmann was called "the handsome grocer" in the neighborhood where he keeps store, No. 741 Washington avenue. It is said that Flossie fell in love with him when he called to get the daily order at the Lansing home. She proudly declared "he was the biggest and finest looking of all her admirers."

It is rumored that when Flossie and her grocer husband returned home Decoration Day for the parental blessing after they had been married by the Rev. Dr. Mitchell, Flossie's stepfather was very angry and did not hesitate to say so. As a result Flossie, who is not quite seventeen and petite, and Arfmann, who is twenty-four, weighs two hundred pounds and is six feet in height, left the house hurriedly and took lodging with a friend.

Last night Flossie's stepfather said: "Everything is all right. There is no truth in the story that Mrs. Lansing and I as trustees of the estate have tied up everything so that Flossie can't get her money. We have no such intention."

The $300,000 fortune was left to Flossie by her father, Edward Johnson, who was the first husband of Flossie's mother.

Baron von Seckendorff, the German Minister to Venezuela, arrived here today on the steamer Orinoco from the West Indies.

NEURALGIA DROVE HER TO SEEK DEATH

Mrs. Rose Joachinistahl, suffering from neuralgia for months, cut her wrists in an attempt at suicide at her home, No. 1007 Second avenue. She was found by her husband and sent to Harlem Hospital, a prisoner. She will recover.

Mrs. Joachinistahl, who is forty-one years old, has two children, Rose, ten, and Jacob, eight. She put the children to bed last night and kissed them tenderly. Then she wrote a note to her husband, in which she was in part: "I can't stand this pain longer. I am tired of living. I hope you will be happy and that you will make the children happy."

The husband, who works at night, came upon his wife on his return home this morning. She was unconscious from loss of blood and was fast dying when discovered.
